This Week

- ★ In writing this week, we explored a range of Viking myths and examined how rich and varied vocabulary is used to create effect. We then used these techniques to write our own detailed setting descriptions of Asgard, focusing on creating vivid imagery for the reader.

- ★ In RE, we have been exploring the meaning of peace, discussing what it means to us personally and where we find peace in our own lives. We have also learned about the Buddha Rupa and how it represents peace and wisdom within Buddhism.

- ★ In PSHE, we have been identifying hazards that can be found in and around the school and discussing potential accidents that could occur. We also explored ways to reduce risks and prevent accidents, helping us to keep ourselves and others safe.

We are looking for volunteers who would like to support our young readers across the school. If you can offer a couple of hours each week, we would love to welcome you as a Reading Volunteer. Your role would involve listening to children read, encouraging their love of books, and helping build their confidence as developing readers. No experience is necessary—just a passion for supporting children and a willingness to give your time. If you are interested or would like more information, please let us know. Your support can make a wonderful difference!
